"Man never is, but always to be almost"— Those words are true, as writ by Mr. Pope.
How much uncertainty gives life it's zest,
And makes of unreality a hope!

The Chicago vice squad goes after the man higher up and finds that he is pretty low-down.

Seventeen insurgents are put to death below the Rio Grande. Mexico may be backward in some things but she knows how to handle the third-party movement.

As Prof. Beeswax P. McGinnis would say, this is going down in history as one of our leading years without a summer.

One of our leading comedians learns that what the force of gravity does to a stone is no joke.

Old Doc Smith endorses old Doc Lowden's Favorite Prescription, but insists on another label being put on the bottle.

Secretary Hoover completes his speech of acceptance and there is now said to be little doubt that it will be in the affirmative.

Tom Heeney is knocked out in one round by Battling Dan Cupid, the undefeated champion of the world.

American champ, fed on wine and eggnog, goes in and wins the 400-meter in the Olympic games. We seem, vaguely, to have heard of the "running jag."

The report of the discovery in Algeria of a human skeleton 30,000 years old is regarded by the political fundamentalists down in Tennessee as just some more subtle Al Smith propaganda.

The railroad labor organizations having decided not to endorse any candidate in this campaign, Messrs.
Smith and Hoover can proceed with an easy conscience to shake hands with all the engineers.

The colored employes of the Library of Congress who have completely mastered the Chinese written language will not need now to get anybody to help him interpret his laundry ticket when John loses the shirt.

A glass bottle sells at auction in West Virginia for $6.50. We trust Mr. Doran will note this significant shortage of containers in the moonshine belt.

Conferences to be held for the purpose of thinking up ways and means for defeating Gov. Smith are called in all the Southern States, at a moment when the increasing power of the negro vote north of the Ohio and Potomac threatens before very long to make it of life and death concern to the section below those rivers that the Democratic party be not irrevocably destroyed by issues trivial indeed when compared to that of race supremacy. Watch your step, Dixie!

Senator Vare rallies, and here is hoping that in a little while he will be strong enough to seize and hold the seat in the Senate from which he has been unjustly excluded by an extraordinary perversion of the Constitutional power. What the Senate does to Mr. Vare after it has seated him, in the event of his recovery, is another matter, but it will indeed be well for the Nation if his life be spared, in order that a second thought will determine that fairness shall prevail even in the United States Senate.

The defeat of Finis J. Garrett deprives Tennessee of one of the ablest spokesmen that State has had on Capitol Hill since the untimely death of Ed Carmack. The old mold from which Southern statesmanship used to be formed appears to have been broken.

"Why should not then we Women act alone, Or whence are Men so necessary grown?"

The good ladies of both parties organize for the big scrap, and in a few years man's place in politics will be where it already is in the average American automobile—on the back seat, watching Ma drive.

Senator Borah demands that campaign expenditures be kept within $3,000,000. He appears positively appalled by the prospect of being obliged to raise another restitution fund.

Representative Grist calls upon Chairman Work to throw William Allen White's garbage can out on the political dump.

Democratic women organizing to defeat Gov. Smith in a nonmudslinging contest announce that they will vote for Hoover "who, fortunately is a clean man." The Republican party can probably take care of its enemies if Providence will step in and save it from its so-called friends.

RAIL LABOR CHIEFS REFUSE TO ENDORSE EITHER CANDIDATE

Parley Here Decides to Permit Various Unions Freedom of Action.

CONGRESS NOMINEES ARE GIVEN APPROVAL

Entire La Follette Ticket in Wisconsin Also Receives Promise of Support.

(Associated Press.)

Chief executives of the 22 standard railroad labor organizations decided here yesterday that organized labor as a body would not endorse any presidential candidate.

At the same time, however, they referred back to the organiza- as themselves whatever action they might wish to take individually.

The action was taken near the close of a three-day executive meeting at which many labor organization problems were discussed. Many candidates for the Senate and House, the entire La Follette-Progressive slate in Wisconsin, and Judge Florence E. Allen, running for reelection to the Ohio Supreme Court, however, will receive the support of organized labor under the program adopted.

David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, attended the meeting as chairman and E. J. Manion, head of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, as secretary.

Nine Senators Indorsed.

In deciding to throw its influence to Judge Allen, the only woman ever to sit on a State supreme court bench, the standard railroad labor organizations took an unusual step, as it was explained. State officers are not as a rule considered in mapping out their political campaigns.

Besides Senator La Follette, who is running for renomination in the September 4 primary in Wisconsin, the labor group decided to support Senators Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota; Wheeler, Democrat, Montana; Dill, Democrat, Washington; Johnson, Republican, California; Pittman, Democrat, Nevada; Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona; Howell, Republican, Nebraska, and Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts.
Labor supported Senator McKellar (Democrat), Tennessee, in his successful race for renomination, and it is expected, a spokesman for the group said, he will be given as strong a backing in the election.

Message to La Follette.

A message sent to La Follette and Representative J. D. Beck, Republican candidate for Governor of Wisconsin, on behalf of the meeting said:

"The chief executives of the standard railroad labor organizations, assembled in Washington for their annual conference, have unanimously indorsed you and all your associates on

Borah Asks $3,000,000 Limit for Campaigns

Boise, Idaho, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—An appel to both major political parties to limit their campaign expenditures to $3,000,000 each was made here today by Senator William E. Borah. The senator said that greater expenditure would constitute "an attempt to debauch the American electorate."

Asked if he was aware that Chairman Work of the Republican national committee had announced a campaign budget of $4,000,000, Senator Borah replied in the affirmative.

Rum Squad Man Beat Him, Spectator of Raid Charges

Rickert Accuses Raider of Assault—Declares He Was Pulled Out of Crowd That Jeered Efforts of Police and Dry Agents.

Charges that while witnessing a raid being made at 2106 Eighteenth street northwest last night he was beaten up by a member of the raiding squad consisting of police and prohibition agents were made by E. A. Rickert, of 2122 Eighteenth street northwest. Rickert declared that today he will obtain a warrant for the arrest of the man he says beat him.

Trouble started when the squad swooped down on the Ambassador Oyster House at the Eighteenth street address. A large crowd gathered and booed and hissed at the raiders as they went about their work. Slighting remarks as to the ability of the raiders to make a living in any other occupation are said to have been made.

While the raid was in progress, Rickert says that he was standing near the door of the oyster house. A member of the squad reached out and grabbed him, pulling him into the establishment, he asserts. He was then taken to the third floor and severely beaten.

Bridal Rice and Shoes Dropped by Airplanes

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 3 (A.P.).
Old shoes, packages of rice and the other customary missiles hurled at newlyweds rained from the sky at Brooks Field's first aerial charivari which marked the marriage of Lieut.
Charles T. Myers, Jr., and Miss Fannel Hull, of San Antonio.

Flying in formation with a blank file for the bridegroom, in token of their grief in losing him, Lieuts. W.
H. Brookley, L. C. Craigie, C. F.
Wheeler and L. P. Hudson swept over the chaplain's quarters just as the wedding party reached there and released a barrage of articles attached to parachutes. Each package bore a note offering a reward of 50 cents — from the bridegroom's pocket — to any one who would take the article to the chaplain's house.
The demands for the rewards almost wrecked the bridegroom financially.

COURT ASKED TO ENJOIN FEDERAL RESERVE RATE

New Yorker Asserts Raises in Rediscount Charges Hurt His Stocks.

WOULD NAME FIXED SUM

New York, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Suit to restrain the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from enforcing its rediscount rate was filed in United States District Court today by Frank G. Raichle, Buffalo attorney.

Raichle charged that the bank had spread propaganda of a "money shortage" which he said did not exist except so far as it had been created for selfish purposes and that the rates were deliberately fixed to restrict the credit available for investment.

Papers in the action also charged that the rediscount rate had been "arbitrarily and unreasonably raised" until that of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York now was 5 per cent. On information and belief, Raichle alleged that the bank had "threatened a further raise" of the rate.

"The primary function" of the Federal Reserve Bank, the complaint said, "is to rediscount eligible paper for its member banks." A charge is made which is known as the rediscount rate.
This rate, it is held, should be fair and reasonable and in conformity with the dictates of economic factors legitimately connected therewith.

Raichle charged that the object of the increases made by the Federal Reserve Bank was to raise interest rates generally and to raise the "call money rates of the New York Stock Exchange," thus "reducing the volume of security loans." In this connection he asserted that the Federal Reserve Bank had "no right to exercise any control over the use of independent resources of member banks."

Raichle's complaint said that with others he had invested money in securities because the business barometer indicated continued prosperity.

G. O. P. Leader Urges Keeping White Silent

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Representative W. W. Grist, dean of the Pennsylvania members of Congress and Republican leader of Lancaster County, today sent a telegram to Dr. Hubert Work, Republican national chairman, criticizing William Allen White for his recent attacks on Gov. Alfred E. Smith.
The telegram follows:

"If possible bottle up tight William Allen White and all other hot-air artistocrats that may be hovering around national headquarters. Please try your utmost. They are a distinct liability." after which he was released, Rickert charges.

Rickert obtained the names of a number of persons who, he says, witnessed the incident. Following his release he was treated by Dr. Grant F. Hartzell, of 2122 Eighteenth street northwest, who gave him a statement to the effect that his arm and face showed signs of the beating.

The raiding squad, which was led by Sgt. O. J. Letterman, seized a quantity of beer and liquor and arrested the following: William Deegan, 29 years old, of 2511 Fourteenth street northwest; Francis Deegan, 20 years old, of 1217 Kennedy street northwest, and Clarence Myers, 25 years old, of 1219 1/2 D street northwest, charged with sale and possession of liquor; James E. Walsh, of 2140 N street northwest, and B. F. Hart, of the Virginia Hotel, charged with illegal possession of liquor. William Deegan was also charged with permitting gaming.

CHICAGO OFFICIALS AMONG 20 INDICTED IN PRIMARY MURDER

Granady Death Plot Laid to Collector, Jurist and State Senator.

JUDGE TO RETAIN JOB TILL HE IS CONVICTED

No Possibility of Cases Being Beaten, Says Special Prosecutor.

Chicago, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—The special grand jury investigating irregularities in connection with the April primaries today hit at the "higher ups," toward whom it has been directing its big guns since the inquiry started two months ago.

Returning a blanket indictment charging conspiracy to violate the election laws, the July special grand jury included in its list of twenty persons the names of Morris Eller, city collector and Republican nominee for sanitary district trustee; his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, until recently acting chief justice of the criminal court; State Senator James B. Leonard, Abe Klass, related to the Ellers, and others prominent in Republican politics in the "Bloody Twentieth Ward," of which Morris Eller is the self-styled boss.

Ellers Will Not Resign.

The grand jury as it passed out of existence returned four hundred and thirty-nine indictments in all, naming many persons on charges of election day kidnappings and assaults and recommended that an August special grand jury be called to carry on the investigation. The call was petitioned for today, the August grand jury being the third to be called to investigate.

One count in the blanket indictment against the Ellers and the others accused the defendants of conspiring in the killing of Octavius Granady, negro politician and opponent of Morris Eller for ward committeeman. He was shot primary day.

Both Morris Eller and his son issued statements stating they would not resign their political positions, and Morris Eller said he did not expect to withdraw as a nominee for sanitary district trustee. Each asked for an early trial and charged the indictments were inspired by the newspapers and by their political enemies.

Signs Own Bond.

Judge William V. Brothers, chief justice of the Criminal Court, allowed Judge Eller to sign his own bond Judge Eller said if convicted he would resign his position on the bench.

Frank J. Loesch, special prosecutor, said the State's case "is so strong there is no possibility of being beaten." He

LINCOLN'S DESK SOLD FOR $29.50 TO BIDDER

Antique Dealers Show Scant Interest in the Relic at Auction.

Special to The Washington Post.
Bunker Hill, W. Va., Aug. 3.—A desk, originally the joint property of Abraham Lincoln and Col. Ward Hill Lamon when the two were practicing law together in Illinois, failed to bring an expected high price when offered for public sale here today. It brought only $29.50. Antique dealers present displayed scant interest in the relic, which was offered in the settlement of the estate of the late Maria E. Janney, widow of Charles Lamson, to whom Col. Lamson gave the desk. Absence of documentary evidence of the Lincoln connection in the desk kept them, they said, from running the price up. The desk was given to Col. Lamson, who gave it to his brother. The latter's widow subsequently was married to Mr. Janney.

Lincolniana hunters were present from Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, New York and Harrisonburg, Va.

Other antiques, not associated with Lincoln, brought big prices. A pair of fine old inlaid tables, which match to make one big table, brought $400.
Ladder-back chairs brought $29.50 each. A glass bottle sold for $6.50.

THREE GIRLS RESCUED FROM ROCK CREEK PIT

Mary V. Conway, Dorothy Hanson and Helen White Saved by McReady.

WADED BEYOND DEPTHS

Presence of mind and courage of Edward H. McReady, 27 years old, of Balliston, Va., yesterday saved three children who, while wading in Rock Creek near Broad Branch road and Beach drive, stepped off a ledge into a pit in the creek bed 15 feet deep.

The children rescued by McReady are Mary V. Conway, of 4120 Eighth street northwest; Dorothy Hanson, of 814 Upshur street northwest, and Helen White, of 4009 Eighth street northwest. All are 11 years old.

They had gone to the park on a picnic, with several other children, all under the guardianship of Mrs. Walter H.
Conway, of 4120 Eighth street northwest, and Mrs. Thomas M. Gallagher, of 4119 Eighth street northwest.

Mary, Dorothy and Helen had waded away from the main party while wading in the creek. Helen White was wading from the shore ahead of her companions, and suddenly screamed for help. Mary heard her call, rushed to her assistance, and she disappeared, calling on Dorothy for help. When Dorothy went after her companions, she too found herself beyond her depth.

Helen Gallagher, who was standing on the shore, and saw her friends disappear in the water, screamed for help. McReady was driving beside the creek, and heard the cries. He stopped his car and ran to the creek.
When he saw the little girls in the water, he rushed in without removing his clothes.

Within a few seconds he had carried the trio to safety. The children were little the worse for their experience, and after receiving first aid treatment at the Pierce Mill Tea House, were taken to their homes.

Mount Etna Emits Smoke and Cinders

Catania, Sicily, Aug. 3 (A.P.).— Mount Etna is showing activity, emitting smoke, ashes and cinders to the accompaniment of loud explosions.

Prof. Ponte, director of the Vulcan-ological Institute, says that no light or other sign of open fire has been visible above the crater.

Desire for Photograph With President Is Fatal

Superior, Wis., Aug. 3 (A.P.).— Mrs. W. H. Rivers, an 80-year-old Civil War widow, paid with her life today for the privilege of being photographed with President Coolidge.
Although suffering from a weak heart, Mrs. Rivers insisted on participating in a visit to the White House executive offices.

At the office the strong sun was apparently too much for Mrs. Rivers, who fainted. She was taken to a hospital, where she died a few hours later.

Seaplane Crash Victim Vanishes From Theater

Fred Disman, Memory Gone, Eludes Mother Who Had Taken Him to Playhouse From Emergency Hospital—Fell in River Here.

Suffering from loss of memory as a result of being in a seaplane crash last June, Fred Disman, 23 years old, of Brooklyn, N. Y., last night disappeared suddenly from the Fox Theater after saying he was going in the smoking room, according to a report made to the police.

Disman has been a patient at Emergency Hospital since the crash of the plane Sea Gull into the Potomac River June 14, after swerving to avert a collision with the tugboat Minerva.
He was suffering from concussion of the brain and had only been able to walk around the hospital about a week.
Miss Jessie White, his night nurse stated.

Mrs. Julia K. Disman, his mother, who has been in constant attendance at the bedside of her son since the accident, took him to dinner yesterday afternoon at the Occidental Hotel.
Disman said he would like to go to the Fox Theater, and his mother took him to the F street playhouse. While in the lobby, he said he was going to the smoking room. After waiting about half an hour, Mrs. Disman became alarmed and sent an usher to call him.
He could not be found. Mrs. Disman

POLISH FLIERS NOT SIGHTED AT AZORES; LAST SEEN AT SEA

Pilsudski Plane May Be on Course to North of Islands.

DUE, IF ALL IS WELL, IN NEW YORK 1 P. M.

No Apprehension Is Felt Over Safety of Majors; Fire Sent Courtney Down.

(Associated Press.)

Another transatlantic flight venture has entered the silent phase of such attempts.

At 9 p. m. Eastern standard time last night, 21 hours after it had left La Bourges Flying Field, the Marshal Pi-ludski, plane of Maj. Louis Idzikowski and Kasimir Kubala, Polish fliers, had not been seen since a reported sighting in the Bay of Biscay, 60 miles off the French coast, early yesterday.

Failure of the plane to be sighted at Horta, Azores, which it had expected possibly to reach before nightfall Friday, caused no immediate apprehension, however, inasmuch as the fliers had stated that if all went well they might steer a true course to the north of the Archipelago and miss it altogether.

Discounting the effect of adverse winds and other possible adverse weather conditions, the plane was expected to arrive in New York as early as 1 p. m. Saturday (Eastern standard time), 37 hours after its start. To do this would require it to maintain an average speed of 100 miles an hour.

Skies Scanned in Vain.

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—At 10 o'clock tonight the Marshal Pilsudski, Polish fliers' transatlantic plane, had not been sighted here. It had been calculated that should it pass over the Azores on its trip from Paris to New York it would arrive here between 7 and 9 p. m. Azores time (4 to 6 p. m. Eastern standard time).

Failure to sight the plane caused no apprehension here because was understood that unless fuel was running low the fliers intended keeping a course to the north of this archipelago.

A forced landing in the Azores would be safe only on the Island of Terceira, although it would be possible in some of the agricultural fields of Fayal.

At nightfall tonight the sky was overcast and there was no wind.

Battle Foggy Weather.

Paris, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Trying to be the first to reverse the route of Lind-bergh's New York-Paris flight, two majors of the Polish army air service, Idzikowski and Kubala, tonight were believed to be winging their way westward somewhere over the Atlantic.

They started their high hopes against a low barometer in the initial stages of their big adventure, out made excellent progress through heavy, foggy weather, until they disappeared off the French coast.

Their big creamy white and blue machine was sighted 60 miles off the French coast three hours after a starting hop-off from Le Bourget Field.

Radio Is Not Carried.

There is no radio aboard the plane, which was stripped down to bare necessaries, and even then made a take-off that caused French aviators at Le Bourget to gasp. The absence of radio means that the Polish officers must continue their gruelling struggle with air and water, and perhaps the danger of fire, until dusk of Saturday, when they hoped to sight the skyscrappers of New York.

Despite the element of risk involved in every foot of the journey, the two took off as simply as if they were going downtown to business. They slipped dungarees over their street clothes and did not even take a clean shirt with them. If they need shaves when they reach New York some other person's razors will be used, for even that small implement was discarded from their equipment.

The French weather bureau announced tonight that fogs and storms

In the west of France, no reason for disquiet regarding the safety of the plane. The fliers hoped to run into better weather as they went westward, reports from the United States having given them assurance of good conditions there.

No Special Objective.

The plane has no special objective in New York, Maj. Idzikowski said: "When we get there, we will start hunting for a landing place."

They were escorted toward the coast by a plane from Le Bourget in which was the chief engineer of the Lorraine Motor Works, M. Carol. This plane turned back at Dreux, M. Carol said: "For the first few minutes the Poles flew rather slowly, making a wide detour to avoid Paris and its suburbs. Shortly thereafter Maj. Idzikowski began to speed up his machine, and they were flying about 100 miles an hour when we left them."

Maj. Idzikowski intended to pilot the plane without relief as far as the Azores, leaving his companion free to scan the broad red line marking their course on the big folding map which was the last thing that the navigator took from their hotel in Paris.

Maj. Kubala drove his automobile from the hotel to Le Bourget field. He passed through the Montmartre pleasure district while lights still were blazing and crowds of pleasure seekers were just starting home. The spectators were unaware of the grim task confronting the hapless young man who steered a dodging way among the taxicabs.

Gets Into Air Easily.

The hop-off came at 5:46 a. m. Paris daylight time (11:46 p. m. Thursday Eastern standard). Idzikowski who faced the task of getting the heavily loaded plane off the ground with a single 650 horsepower, was pale but determined as he pulled down his goggles. "Nitchewo," he said to friends, "that being the Russian equivalent of 'Well, what of it?'"

Then he gave the motor plenty of gas and after the shortest run ever seen at the field for a plane of that class hopped the big machine into the air. French observers cried out in anxiety at his daring, but he cleared the military hangars and in two minutes was out of sight of the field.

The plane is fitted with a system which will permit emptying gas tanks in a little more than a minute. This will add materially to the floating capacity of the machine in case it is forced down on the ocean.

"All we ask is one chance in two to get to Halifax and then one chance in five to get to New York," said Kubala, who is acting as navigator.

Idzikowski carried with him only his mascot—three or four roses given him by a French girl friend.

Will Pass Azores.

They headed westward for Lorient on the coast and they intended to go to the Azores. Without stopping there the fliers expected to curve northward toward Halifax or they might head straight for New York. The flight by way of Halifax would be about 4,000 miles and it would be about 3,800 miles direct to New York.

The cruising radius of the plane is about 5,000 miles. The fliers expect to maintain an average speed of 90 miles an hour. Idzikowski intended to take things easy at the start, not forcing the motor, as this would waste gasoline while the plane was still heavy. As the load gets lighter the speed will be increased proportionately. Their maximum speed is 110 miles an hour.

The Poles had fuel for more than two full days and nights of flying. They expected to drop down in New York on Saturday about dusk. They thought the trip would take from 40 to 42 hours but were sure they could stay in the air for 56 hours if necessary.

Fire Courtney's Nemesis.

London, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Fire aboard the plane forced Capt. Frank T. Courtney to land.

BADLY HURT IN PLANE CRASH

FRED STONE.
The comedian, who was severely injured yesterday when his plane crashed at Groton, Conn.

ney down on the Atlantic, he informed his wife today in a message sent from the liner Minnewaska. The liner rescued Courtney and his three companions on an attempt to fly to America from the Azores.

The Evening News received a wireless message from the commander of the steamship Cedric announcing: "Minnewaska reports plane crew rescued. No injuries. Plane abandoned."

Captain Courtney's message to his wife read:

"Practically everything O. K. Had to come down owing to fire. Nothing to worry about."

Mrs. Courtney told the Associated Press correspondent: "I was very much relieved to hear from Frank, although I firmly believed he would be rescued since I knew his plane could float for a long time. I don't know what has become of the plane. I expect to hear from him again very soon."

"I doubt whether I'll go to New York to meet him since I expect he will return to London very shortly."

The veteran comedian suffered a double compound fracture of the left leg, fractured right thigh, fractured lower jaw, fractured left wrist, dislocation of the left ankle and right shoulder, cuts of the scalp and hands and abrasions of the face.

Stone has been practicing of late to fly in his biplane with the intention of getting a pilot's license. This morning, while in the air alone, he went into a nose dive when his motor failed and he was pinned beneath the machine when he crashed into a bed of beets on a farm near the airport. He was hurried to a hospital here, unconscious.

It was said tonight that he was "doing nicely," but that it would be some weeks before he would be able to leave. Stone came here this morning with his daughter, Paula, from his summer home in Lyme in the plane, piloted by Lieut. John L. Campian, his flight instructor. After the trio landed, Stone took over the controls and was in the air only 10 minutes when he encountered motor difficulties.

As he was flying low he could not prevent the plane from swerving into a field, and he came down with terrific force, the nose of the plane burying itself into the ground.

Cleaver, Mail Holdup Leader, Gets 25 Years

Chicago, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Charles (Limpy) Cleaver, ring leader of the band of robbers that held up a Grand Trunk train at Evergreen Park last February, obtaining $133,000, today was sentenced by Federal Judge James Wilkerson to 25 years in Alcatraz.

Prison, and fined $10,000, after his motion for a new trial had been overruled.

Cleaver and Charles H. Wharton, former representative, were convicted of complicity in the robbery by a Federal jury yesterday. Wharton, convicted of conspiracy and facing a maximum sentence of two years and a fine of $10,000, will argue for a new trial in September.

Ramsay MacDonald Arrives at Quebec

Quebec, Quebec, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—J. Ramsay MacDonald, former labor premier of Great Britain, arrived at Quebec today on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of France, from Southampton.

He was accompanied by his eldest daughter, Isabel, who is a member of the London county council and has taken an active part in the political campaigns of her father in recent years, and his two younger daughters, Joan and Sheila.

Azara Anchors Off Palace at Santander

Santander, Spain, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—The yacht Azara, which had been missing in the transatlantic race for the King's Cup, was towed into the bay this morning and anchored in front of the royal palace.

The members of the crew, who left New York July 7, explained they had lost their bearings and sailed into a calm. They had been receiving wireless messages and learned of the search for them, but were unable to reply, since their own transmitting apparatus had failed. At one stage they were for four days without moving from the same position under a suffocating sun. They added, "Fresh water was getting low, so we took steps to make it last."

MURDER OF YOUNG WOMAN IN CANYON CHARGED TO PHILADELPHIAN

Surgeon Believes Girl Was Shot and Left to Die Slowly.

MAY HAVE SUFFERED 3 DAYS, HE DECLARES

Wife Says Victim, From Same City, Was Responsible for Separation.

Los Angeles, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Russell Beitzel, alias Russell Barholme, of Philadelphia, tonight formally was charged with the murder of a young woman whose nude body was found in Stone Canyon, north of Hollywood, last night. The woman, about 25 years old, to whom Beitzel lived in North Hollywood, has been identified as Barbara Mauger, also of Philadelphia. She also was known as Barbara Morrow, Norma Barber and Norma Barholme. Physicians said she was about to become a mother when she was murdered.

A theory that the girl may have lived as long as three days after her bullet-pierced and nude body was left in the hills north of Hollywood, was advanced by County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner.

Beitzel, who is said to have brought the girl from Philadelphia, was charged formally with her murder after long questioning.

Life Might Have Been Saved.

Dr. Wagner, after an examination of the body, which apparently had lain in the hills more than a month, said the bullet wound in the head would not necessarily have been fatal had been given immediate medical attention. He said it was possible the wound only blinded and stunned her and she was left to die a slow death.

The body was identified by means of a wedding ring, inside of which was scratched a pawnbroker's number and a few beads found scattered on the ground.

Throughout the long day of grilling, Beitzel, according to the police, steadfastly maintained his innocence.

Denies Knowledge of Death.

When a "missing person" report was found in police files of June saying that "Norma Barholme" had disappeared, officers arrested the man at the plant of an engineering company, where he was employed and took him to the spot where the body was found. There they said, "Barholme" denied knowledge of her death, but stated that he and the young woman had wedded together had quarreled, and that he had left him in Stone Canyon when they had gone there on an outing.

Two boys found the girl's body at the foot of a hillside on Mulholland drive. Indications were that the girl had been shot and thrown down into a thicket.

Investigators said service discharge papers were found in the home occupied by Beitzel.

Mrs. Margaret Laird, from whom Beitzel rented the house in which he was living, told police that on the night following the woman's disappearance Beitzel telephoned her and said he would return.

"My wife has gone to Long Beach to visit an aunt," she quoted him, "and from there she will go to San Diego, then on to Pasadena."

Wife Found in Lancaster.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Mrs. Jean Mellinger Beitzel, wife of Russell Beitzel, who is held in Los Angeles in connection with the death of a girl, was located here tonight.

She said the dead girl was Barbara Mauger, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mauger, 1707 Fairmount avenue, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Beitzel has been living with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Kahler, in a suburb of Lancaster since last May. She said she and her husband separated about a year and a half ago. They have two children.

She said her husband met Barbara Mauger when he was assistant credit manager in a Philadelphia department store and she was a cashier there. They became friendly, Mrs. Beitzel said, and it was this relationship which led to her separation.

There was a court order for the support of her two children, Russell, 5, and Robert, 4. Financial support came from Beitzel until last fall when he suddenly disappeared and since then, she said, she had heard nothing from him.

Russell Beitzel is the son of Mrs. Catherine Beitzel, York, Pa., and is a graduate of Temple University, his wife said.

Barbara Mauger was about to become a mother, Mrs. Beitzel said, she asserted that Mauger came to her last winter and asked her to divorce Beitzel so that he could marry Barbara.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Aug. 3.—The "toot" ensemble for the male made its appearance today in New York just as the Prince of Wales was shucking his royal waistcoat in London.

There was something akin to excitement among the lounge lizards, and the lads who take three lumps of sugar and their afternoon tea were positively agog.

There is going to be harmony—real democratic harmony—in the male attire from now until the last bolt of cloth is twisted and basted in place. New York is to become "clothes conscious," and the male without the proper motif will be shunned as if he had halitosis.

It all came about in a gray and silver salon just back from Park avenue, as the tailor's crew files. There 200 criterion of trousers, neckties and socks cheered softly in the first showing of the new creations.

Ah, the new ensemble! It is a perfect dream of a symphony in blue-gray-blue and blue-gray, with Columbia blue shirt, indigo blue tie and black-and-blue socks, topped off with a midnight-blue hat.

The well-dressed man was supposed to come to life at the neckwear and allied manufacturers' show, which was carried out on woman's fashion show lines.

Living models were to trip across a stage set in orange and orchid. There were signs as they failed to appear. Paul Thompson, advertising director for the company sponsoring the show, explained that the boys had broken training and the ensembles designed for them would not fit so the critics had to be satisfied with dummies. Mr. Thompson went further in apologizing for the absent mannikins.

A variation of one-quarter of an inch, he said, "make the whole suit unfit for wear."

In the dressing room a male modiste hinted at a last minute strike among the modistes.

"It was the underwear man's fault," he said. "He did not like the fit of his blue and white underwear and told the other boys he would not go on parade. Then they all took a look in the mirrors and went on strike."

To achieve the results of display three makers men's wear and some of the small shops got together so that the ensemble would be an animated interphony from crown piece to rubber heels.

"Also it appears the male electorate is slated to go double-breasted from the waist to the vest. Furthermore, the word from the salon was that most carefully dressed men more and more are wearing suits either without pattern or with small regular design. It seems, however, that stripes will be permitted 'if they are carefully selected.'"

Even one's automobiles and girl friends should harmonize, according to the dictate of the fashion makers. The necktie, too, is a danger spot. If it doesn't match one's complexion, the whole effect of the ensemble is lost.

"The clothes conscious man must realize," goes the warning, "that although only six inches of necktie show it must be of a small and regular pattern to be effective."

New York is going to lead America's men into paths of beauty.

KING PRAISES PEACE PACT IN PARLIAMENT

Kellogg Treaty Is Important Guarantee of Harmony, British Told.

London, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Confidence in the Kellogg pact of outlawry will be an important guarantee of peace was expressed by King George in proroguing parliament today.

The speech from the throne said: "My government has been happy to accept the proposed treaty for the renunciation of war in the form in which it was finally proposed to them by the government of the United States."

The proposed treaty has similarly been accepted by my governments in the dominions and my government of India. It is my confident expectation that when completed it will constitute a new and important guarantee of the world's peace."

Assent was given to the measure assimilating local governments and to parliamentary franchise of men and women which will confer equal electoral rights on the two sexes. Parliament was prorogued at 3 p. m.

The new session will begin November 6. This will be the last session of the present parliament, which expires on or before November 1, 1929.

Father Dies, Son Dying At Reunion of Family

Pittsburgh, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Michael Huber, 54, of Dallas, Tex., who was a wealthy oil drilling contractor, died, and his son, Joseph, 14, was reported dying today at Allison Park, a suburb, where they had been attending a family reunion.

At an autopsy Huber was found to have died from acute zoster enteritis, a disease which is fatal. The cause of death was attributed to the heat and several prostrations today. A gentle southwest wind, general in the East, furnished some relief.

A thunderstorm, developing in the Northwest, will arrive late tomorrow, according to the Weather Bureau, bringing cool and fair weather for Sunday.

The death of Morris Holderfer, Columbia graduate student, today brought weather fatalities in New York to seven since the heat wave began two days ago.

Holderfer was chilling in a baseball game at the university yesterday when he collapsed. He was majoring in physical education and came here with a star athletic record from Knox College, Illinois. His home was in Donnellson, Iowa.

Sir Austen's Illness May Bar Paris Trip

London, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—The condition of Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, was said tonight to be "satisfactory after a comfortable day."

Sir Austen is suffering from a mild attack of broncho-pneumonia, it was said. Physicians say there is no cause for anxiety, although it is expected the illness will prevent his going to Paris August 25 to sign the Kellogg multilateral treaty outlawing war.

Brennan's Condition Reported Improved

Chicago, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—George E. Brennan, Illinois Democratic national committeeman, was reported as much improved tonight at John B. Murphy Hospital, where he is under treatment for septic poisoning.

HEAT PROSTRATES FOUR AS MERCURY CLIMBS TO 98 HERE

Two Government Offices Are Closed—Children's Hospital Crowded With Patients

BUREAU SAYS WEATHER WILL CONTINUE WARM

Deaths Reported in Several Cities as Torrid Wave Sweeps Wide Area.

Four persons were prostrated and two government bureaus closed yesterday afternoon as a result of the heat which reached a maximum temperature of 95 degrees at 4 o'clock. The kiosk on Pennsylvania avenue, near Fourteenth street northwest, registered 98 degrees at the same time.

Eight persons died from heat and four from drowning in the Chicago area yesterday, according to Associated Press reports. Two heat fatalities were reported in Detroit area, which is in the throes of a scorching heat wave, following in the wake of a series of thunderstorms, which caused considerable damage.

Children's Hospital was taxed to capacity last night by children made ill from the heat and incalculable cases. The excessive temperature of the last few days and improper feeding of the children was explained as the cause for the large number of patients treated.

Weather to Continue Warm.

Continued warm and fair weather, except for the possibility of thunder-showers this afternoon and tomorrow night, is the Weather Bureau's forecast.

Officials of the Federal Trade Commission and the Women's and Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor found it necessary to dismiss their employees because of the intense heat in their offices, and the chief clerks of other Government offices were vainly beseeched by sweating clerks for an early dismissal. It was decided, however, that as there had been two successive hot days this week, general closing orders were not justified.

Those who were overcome by heat were Edwin Kurtz, 27 years old, of 1207 U street southeast; Max W. Ware, 27 years old, of 514 Kennedy street northwest; William Stewart, colored, 41 years old, of 113 Holbrook terrace northwest, and William Nutt, colored, 52 years old, of 802 I street northwest.

Kurtz was stricken at his home and died at Casualty Hospital where it was said his condition is not serious.

Ware was overcome at a hardware store at 14th and U streets northwest. He was given first aid by employees of the store and treated by the Emergency Hospital ambulance physician, later going to his home.

Two Stricken While at Work.

Stewart and Nutt were stricken while working on a building at 1009 Lamont street northwest and were taken to Emergency Hospital where it was said their condition is not serious.

The rise in the heat was steady from 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when the thermometer at the kiosk registered 80 degrees. At 10 o'clock it was up to 86; at noon, 91; and at 4 o'clock it reached its peak of 98 degrees. Thereafter, it dropped slowly.

Today from Boston south along the entire Atlantic seaboard cities reported temperatures in the nineties and high eighties, with a high humidity.

Rhode Island on a 24-hour period had two deaths directly attributed to the heat and several prostrations.

Boston, with 24, equaled the highest mark of the season which was reached on July 8.

New York sweltered under a high humidity with the thermometer reading 98 late in the afternoon. This same day in 1926 holds the record with a 99. There were several prostrations today. A gentle southwest wind, general in the East, furnished some relief.

A thunderstorm, developing in the Northwest, will arrive late tomorrow, according to the Weather Bureau, bringing cool and fair weather for Sunday.

LEAGUE ARMAMENT SESSION LIKELY SOON

Commission Meeting Expected Because of French-English Naval Agreement.

Paris, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—An early meeting of the permanent disarmament commission of the League of Nations, perhaps immediately after the assembly of the league in Geneva next month, is expected here as a result of the agreement between France and England on the principles of the naval disarmament program. The commission adjourned in March subject to the call of its chairman, M. Loucheur, of Holland.

The commission decided then to defer second reading of the disarmament plan, which it had under consideration, because it was useless to continue until the differences between England and France were settled. There was great opposition by the German and Russian members to this delay, but they were pacified when the chairman said he would call the commission together again just as soon as conditions for progress became favorable.

Owing to the brief time before the meetings of the league in September, it is considered doubtful whether the commission could finish its work if it were called to meet in advance of the Geneva gatherings.

Pope to Create Two Cardinals, Is Report

BOTH PARTIES WANT COMPLETE COUNT IN TENNESSEE POLL

State's Presidential Vote Said to Hinge on Democratic Nominee for Governor.

STAHLMAN, INDEPENDENT, IS OPPOSED TO HORTON

Expected to Throw Strength to Republican Ticket if McAlister Is Loser.

By CARLISLE BARGERSON.
There is comfort for either the Hoover or Smith camp in Thursday's Democratic primary in Tennessee, but the indications are that it will take a complete count before it is known which will enjoy it.

The presidential significance of the primary lies in the gubernatorial race between Gov. Henry H. Horton and Hill McAlister. There is a large independent group behind McAlister, headed by the venerable independent Maj.
E. B. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner.

The understanding in political circles here is that if McAlister gets the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Maj.
Stahlman and his group will go along with the Democratic ticket in November and this will be of considerable assistance to Gov. Smith. On the other hand, Horton is understood to have the major's underlying political enmity and if he loses McAlister outright it is believed Stahlman will support the Republican ticket in November.

Like Col. Watterson.
Maj. Stahlman is one of the surviving members of the old school of journalism, typified by the late Col. Henry Watterson. The major has grown up in a State where political editors used to fight duels in support of their writings. Duels are now passe, even in Tennessee, but this has not detracted from the major's editorial virility or his participation in politics. He has a following of Republicans or Democrats would like to have in a State which 15,000 or so votes will overturn.

President Coolidge lost the State in 1924 by only 27,000 votes, while Harding carried it by some 13,000 votes.
Stahlman and Gov. Harding broke early in the governor's administration, largely over appointments, and as a result the editor did everything in his power during the primary fight to effect Horton's defeat. The understanding is that he is more unconcerned anything else about the presidential race and that his enmity toward Horton would prevail against the entire Democratic ticket if Horton receives the nomination.

It would not be unusual in the least for Stahlman to support the Republican candidate. He supported both Taft and Hughes, although in neither case was his support strong enough to give the State to them. Since that time, however, Tennessee has broken into the Republican column. The Republicans are to make an intensive campaign in the State this year.

Labor for McAlister.
Horton's nomination and Stahlman's consequent defection would not necessarily mean Smith's loss of the State.
Many observers see the influence of labor behind the majority ployed up by Senator McKellar over Representative Pine J. Garrett in the senatorial race.
The railway brotherhoods made a vigorous fight for the senator's renomi-nation. Those who point to the railroad support as the reason for the republican belief that labor in Tennessee would line up behind Smith. Organized labor, however, is not unfriendly to Secretary Hoover's campaign. The railroads fought strongly for him in the prevention campaign.

Garrett's defeat is attributed in some measure to his opposition to the Navy-Haugen bill. George N. Peek, the Illinois farm leader, vigorously opposed him and McKellar made farm relief one of the issues of his fight. Garrett's re-nominations comes at a time when the chances of his becoming House leader, or possibly Speaker, were extremely bright.
In the event Smith wins and brings in Democratic Congress with him, Garrett's advanced views, however, had endangered his House tenure, and it was largely because, when he ran two years ago and won by barely 200 votes, he declined to make the senatorial race hoping that he would be in higher regard by the State at large. He is considered to be one of the most capable men in the Democratic party.

The veteran John N. Garner, of Texas, will undoubtedly succeed him to House Democratic leadership.

GOV. HORTON HAS 2,500 LEAD IN TENNESSEE

McAlister Refuses to Concede Defeat in Democratic Gubernatorial Race.

MCKELLAR WINS PRIMARY

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Gov. Henry H. Horton entered the State's 2,500 precincts were reported today with the appointment of an advocacy committee by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The real reason for the appointment
a branch of the women's advocacy committee, she explained, but business and pro-
voters, and women of farming communities will be organized under separate divisions. And "a place for every woman" will be the keynote of the national campaign. Western
women in the northern agricultural States.

The campaign for the votes of the
drive.

is to be organized into working units," said Mrs. H. H. Horton, who has been in-
great calamities and he has even served as head of the Child Health Association, but primarily he is interested in and

One hundred and seventy-nine out
the Democratic incumbent, L. E. Eslick, 7,491 to 3,389 for W. B. Turner.
Representative Gordon Browning (Democrat), Eighth District, was well ahead of Henry H. Clayton, whom 171 of the 263 precincts had reported.
Count: Browning, 7,234; Clayton, 4,412.

In the Ninth, where five sought to succeed Garrett, Jere Cooper won 184 out of 216 precincts had 8,697 to 7,842 for W. W. Craig, his nearest opponent. The other three trailed.

Women of Rival Parties Organize for Campaign

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Adds Advisory Committee to Her Counselors; Says Smith's Record Should Be Studied by All.

Drive for West Put Afoot in Chicago as Feminine Leaders Meet—Needle Cases to Be Put Into Homes by Workers.

New York, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—The women's campaign for the election of Gov.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, as announced today with the appointment of an
D. Roosevelt.

of the bureau of women's activities,
a branch of the women's advocacy committee, she explained, but business and pro-
voters, and women of farming com-
States.

drive.

great calamities and he has even served
as head of the Child Health Association,
but primarily he is interested in and
is working for big business.

the Democratic incumbent, L. E. Eslick,

SUIT WOULD ENJOIN

throughout the year. The alleged acts complained of, papers in the suit said, had damaged Raichle, as the value of his securities had depreciated. The results for certain of them virtually having been destroyed.

In addition to asking an injunction restraining the bank from enforcing its discount rates, Raichle also asked for a mandatory injunction directing the bank to fix a "reasonable rate" and to act within the purpose and intent of the Federal Reserve Act.

The New York Clearing House Association today approved an amendment to the constitution providing for a bank service charge of 5 per cent on the interest yield when the call money rate is 5 per cent. The idea is that the industrial operations insurance companies and other organizations which have been taking millions of dollars from bank deposits for investments in the call money market, now will find a less remunerative yield in the market and leave their money on deposit in the banks. On the other hand, when the call money rate rises to 10 per cent, the new service charge will work out to the same rate as at present, thus attracting such funds when they actually are needed.

SMITH ADVANCES EQUALIZATION FEE HOOPER COMPLETES ACCEPTANCE SPEECH; PLANS BRIEF REST

Has No Plan for Assessing Surplus Control Cost, but Will See Leaders.

PROMISES TO EVOLVE SATISFACTORY METHOD

NO INTIMIDATION GIVEN OF NOMINEE'S POSITION

Governor Invites Walsh, of Montana, to Conference; Calls on Raskob.

New York, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—The equalization fee provision of the vetoed Mc-Nary-Haugen farm relief bill is unacceptable to Gov. Smith, and so far as he is concerned it can stay in the scrap heap for good.

The Democratic presidential nominee recognizes and feels that his party by its platform is committed to control of the sale of agricultural surpluses with the cost borne by the group benefited, but, his thumbs are turned down on the McNary-Haugen method.

Facing a dozen or more inquiring newspaper men today in his suite at the Biltmore, which wasn't cool even if it is the forecastle of a ship, Gov. Smith there usually is a breeze, Smith went further on the farm question than he did yesterday after talking things over with George M. Peck, Illinois farm leader, who has cast his lot with the Democrats.

Some one recalled this sentence in his statement yesterday: "Control of the sale of agricultural surplus is an essential need, its cost to be imposed on the group benefited, and I am asked whether that was to be construed as an endorsement of the equalization fee principle."

Smith quickly turned to an editorial in the New York World declaring that it summed up his views "concisely." It said that the plan for assessing the cost of control—"surpluses contained in the legislation which President Coolidge branded as unconstitutional"—was "unacceptable" to him; that Smith had no plan of his own as yet for carrying out the principle of having the unit stand the expense and that if "electors" had to get down to work on evolving a satisfactory method.

It was all the nominee would say to the question, dismissing it to just close, that he had invited Senator Walsh, of Montana, to confer with him on the subject. He said that he "willingness to meet with him, but that a definite date and place for their conference had not been determined." On the subject which Senator Hiram Johnson has made the issue in his campaign for reelection, there is no doubt that the senator declined to have Hoover, who has withdrawn from the race after the California primaries, in which he was beaten by both Smith and Reed, endorse him. There is, however, a Catholic. He is an ardent dry.

May Canvass Situation.
It is probable that the senator will talk over the political situation with Smith after the governor goes back to Albany Sunday to get down to work on his acceptance speech.

The nominee passed last night on Long Island Sound aboard the yacht of William H. Todd, his ship building friend, remarking today that it wasn't even cool.

On returning to the Biltmore this morning he had a chat with Fred W.
Johnson, one of the original Smith men in the campaign. He was regional campaign headquarters at Salt Lake City. Johnson told the nominee that the folks out his way were more interested in such things as relief and wheat raisers of the Midwest have everything to lose in a Democratic victory, "which would place the congressional farm relief program in the hands of Southern planters instead of Gilbert Haugen, author of the McNary-Haugen bill. The Iowa representative, following a conference with Gov. Smith, declined to take kindly to such a suggestion. The platform was silent on that subject.

Johnson Not in Line In opening his campaign in the southern part of the State, Johnson let fire upon the power association and told an audience at Los Angeles yesterday that no man was too big to make a clean-cut declaration on the subject of the operations of the utility associations.

Johnson has publicly declared in support of the Republican presidential ticket, and thus the little doubt that he and the national party leaders are at variance on this as well as some other issues in the campaign.

Arrangements for the notification ceremonies here which are under the direction of a committee in San Francisco, practically have been completed and plans have been laid for holding a crowd which will take the 100,000 capacity of the huge concrete bowl of the Coliseum during the remainder of the campaign aiding Hoover's candidacy.

Dr. E. E. Clements, of Macon, Mo., national committeeman from Missouri, was another early arrival. State Chairman Ludwig Roe said two issues had been presented to him by the Missouri delegation, and he had decided to refrain from a declaration of opinion on agricultural products and an early completion of the Great Lakes-St.
Lawrence waterway from Duluth to the ocean.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Panama City, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Panama's present election Sunday will mean a government of victory with Florentino Harmodio Arosemena the winner. The opposition leader, former President Bernas, issued a proclamation this evening requesting supporters to withdraw and not vote. With candidate Jorge Boyd in Washington, it looks as if Boyd's election means a similar ceremony in the history of the country.

Library Employe Masters China's Written Language

Heteroglyphics of the Chinese language have been a puzzle to other nations for centuries, and in the United States comparatively few people have been able to master them. One of these few, however, resides in Washington. He is Berry A. Claytor, colored, 1515 S street northwest, who since entering the service of the Library of Congress as a messenger in 1915, through his own spare time efforts, mastered the art of reading and writing Chinese.

Claytor is one of the three persons to be in charge of the enormous collection of Chinese manuscripts and books which are a part of the Congressional Library's collection, which is the largest in the world outside of China and Japan.

The young colored man first became interested in the Oriental characters in 17, when he volunteered to help in the work of collating and binding some Asiatic periodicals after two other men in his division had refused the job.

He manifested interest in his work from the start, but with the entrance of the United States into the World War he enlisted in the Army and was sent to France. Returning in 1919, he was given another position at the library and went to work arranging a large shipment from China on the shelves.

His work so pleased his superiors that he was permanently attached to the Chinese division, to work on a catalogue of the books. He also serves as a research assistant to the scholars who use the collection, and his knowledge of the collection seems wide.

Since attaining proficiency in Chinese Claytor was graduated in 1924 with a LL.B. degree at Howard University, and won a prize there for legal research.

BRITON WILL PREACH AT NEW YORK AVENUE

President's Pastor Interrupts Vacation to Conduct Services in Capital.

Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, will occupy the pulpit at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church, 900 Massachusetts avenue northwest.

The bishop is preaching in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. William A. Lambeth, as yet he has not announced the topic of his sermon for either the morning or the evening services. It was stated at the church yesterday.

Bishop Candler is bishop of the Mississippi, the North Mississippi, and the South Mississippi conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Recently he took issue with Bishop Cannon, sponsor of the anti-evangelical conference in Asheville, N. C., and refused to attend. Bishop Candler asserted the church should remain out of politics.

At one time Bishop Candler was head of the Baltimore Conference, in which district Washington is located. On numerous occasions he has spoken before the congregation at the Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church.

The junior congregation of the church will worship tomorrow morning in the Sunday School auditorium at 11 o'clock with the Rev. John W. Rustin preaching on "He Who Overcomes." Mr. Lambeth, the pastor, is now in Winston-Salem, N. C., where his father, Col. Frank S. Lambeth, is seriously ill, and a sister, Mrs. W. W. Rankin, Jr., is in a hospital recovering from an operation. An aunt who lives in Thomasville, N. C., died Thursday, and he will attend her funeral today, it was stated at the church here.
